Lighting Service + Maintenance Leaving You in the Dark?

- Lack of communication?
- Frequent performance problems?
- Emergency outages not treated like emergencies?
- Waiting around for repairs?
- Warranty management nonexistent?

Since 2003, we have led Fortune 500 companies through the LED lighting evolution, completing thousands of projects and providing continued lighting service and maintenance across their facility portfolios.

EMC's lifecycle approach to service and maintenance plans fits the unique needs of your operations, maximizing the efficiency, effectiveness and life of your lighting systems.

With rapid and inevitable changes in technology affecting your business and the lighting industry, now is a critical time to establish a long-term relationship with a nationwide service provider who will help you navigate lighting service and maintenance.

Lighting service + maintenance costs can be predictable with a lifecycle approach.

Let EMC bring your service program back into the light with a customized solution.

Customizable Service Plans

At EMC we know that a “cookie-cutter” approach to service maintenance does not work for today’s facility operations. We take a data-driven approach to service that ensures you realize and understand your Total Cost of Ownership (TCO) to quickly implement and deliver the desired results.

Warranty Management

With an ever-evolving LED marketplace and increasingly complex warranties, it’s critical to have a trusted partner to manage and realize your warranties. EMC handles everything from identifying issues and scheduling labor to coordinating material procurement and managing service agreements so you receive the full benefit of your product warranties.

Nationwide Coverage

You need quick, affordable and consistent service, no matter what facility in your portfolio is being serviced. Without this critical coverage, you are left with inconsistent work, nonexistent processes and multiple points of contact to manage. Working with one service provider like EMC takes away the hassle of lighting maintenance and ensures consistency across your portfolio.

TCO Recognition

Service requirements for your lighting infrastructure are not static. EMC service isn’t just about maintaining existing systems—it’s about maximizing the investment in your lighting systems and laying the foundation for future enhancements.

Contact EMC today to bring your service program back into the light!
